4. Petitioner agrees Carol Lefebvre Toto shall remain the Guardian. Taking care of Linda since her 2010 stroke has been a challenge met by the cooperation between myself and my sister-in-law. She is a good and loving sister to Linda and sister-in-law to me. We have a long and complex relationship. We have been partners, confidants, and friends. It is imperative, for Linda's sake, that this relationship continue in some fashion or another.

5. Petitioner agrees to send a weekly email to the Guardian which will professionally summarize Linda's progress, regression, activities, needs, and so on. Petitioner will respectively respond to any additional information the Guardian may request or for the Petitioner to do. Any phone calls made will be at the Guardian's discretion.

6. Petitioner agrees that Linda will get a full Medical Examination in about six months by Practitioner(s) mutually agreed to by the Guardian and Spouses. This aspect of the Reconciliation Agreement shall be non-confrontational and loving and in the best interests of Linda as its objective. This six-month period may hold the key to a needed Reconciliation among the parties.

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to recommend for therapy services for my client, Linda, who has been placed in a nursing home and has reported feelings of depression and restricted emotional well-being. As part of the assessment process, a Mental Health Status exam was conducted through Telehealth on December 31, 2024, with a follow up session on February 4, 2025, revealing that Linda was coherent and engaged in the therapy session, and demonstrated a willingness to participate and provide feedback about her past experiences.

It is evident that Linda is experiencing significant emotional distress due to circumstance involving her interpersonal relationships and requires therapeutic intervention to address her mental health needs. The therapy services will aim to provide support, coping strategies, and emotional processing for Linda to navigate her current circumstances and improve her overall well-being.

Given the findings of the Mental Health Status exam and the client's reported symptoms, it is imperative that Linda receives therapy services to address her emotional and psychological concerns. The therapy sessions will be essential in promoting her mental health and enhancing her quality of life while residing in the nursing home.

I kindly request that the recommendation be granted for therapy services for Linda to address her mental health needs effectively. If further information or documentation is required, please do not hesitate to contact me at 402-431-2003 or ureimaginedcs@gmail.com

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

Clifton Hobbs III, MS, LIMHP, NCC
